WHY I WROTE THIS BOOK

OR

WHY I TOOK THE PHOTOGRAPHS

As a young lad when I was growing up I read a book called 1984, it told of a dystopian world only a few years hence. Then later I saw a film called 2001 A Space Odyssey, and was struck with the thought what will the world actually be like in 1984 and 2001.

As it happened when 1984 came along I found myself living and working in Trowbridge, the county town for Wiltshire. I had a camera and my work took me out and about, so I decided to take a photograph, or two each day, of the people, places and events in the town.

Some years later I had time to process the photographs and not knowing quite what to do with them started uploading them onto my website. That led to people making comments and telling their friends and making more comments and eventually I was asked - when are you going to write a book?

When indeed.
